

Handwritten header text, possibly a title or date, including the word "L" and some illegible characters.

Main body of handwritten text in a cursive script, consisting of approximately 25 lines. The text is dense and difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and some fading.

Handwritten signatures and names at the bottom of the page, including "amador" and "egurda".